Senate Republicans elect Brown as assistant majority floor leader

LANSING – Michigan Senate Republicans recently elected Sen. Cameron S. Brown as the Senate assistant majority floor leader for the upcoming session by unanimous consent.

“It is an honor to be selected by my Republican colleagues to serve as assistant majority floor leader,” said Brown, R-Fawn River Township. “I look forward to working closely with our new majority leader, Mike Bishop, Governor Granholm, and members of the House of Representatives to facilitate job growth and improve education for our children. Working together we can help ensure that Michigan’s future is a bright one.”

Senate Republicans also filled the following leadership positions:

- Majority whip: Sen. Jason Allen
- Majority floor leader: Sen. Alan Cropsey
- Majority caucus chairman: Sen. Nancy Cassis
- Assistant majority leader: Sen. Michelle McManus
- Assistant majority whip: Sen.-elect Roger Kahn
- Assistant majority caucus chairman: Sen.-elect Mark Jansen
- President pro tempore (nominated by caucus; elected by Senate): Sen.-elect Randy Richardville
- Assistant president pro tempore (nominated by caucus; elected by Senate): Sen. Alan Sanborn

As assistant majority floor leader and a member of the Senate leadership team, Brown will help develop both the long-term and day-to-day agenda of the chamber.

The Republican senators will assume their new roles when Michigan’s 94th Legislature convenes in January.
